

Let's have friends around for dinner

Let's have friends around for dinner, it's ages since we did show off our renovations, and our high-achieving kids perhaps we'll get Samantha, to play the violin and have George recite soliloquies from one of those nice Shakespearian plays he's in.

Let's have friends around for dinner, open something nice perhaps that pinot noir from Central you got Sam to sign remember how we had to chase him down and ask him twice We'll talk holiday destinations and play our world CDs like the one we stole from that obscure and starving gypsy band we found in Greece, or was it Nice

Lets have friends around for dinner, open up our home let everybody know we're Party Central there's no point in being hip and fascinating on our own

Let's have friends around for dinner, select them carefully perhaps that couple from the yacht club, I see she drives a Porsche, and he's director of a finance company they're just back from Honolulu, they're not short of a bob She says avoiding penniless investors has become a full time job

Let's have friends around for dinner, share some joie de vie we can always use that story about your Mother being ill if we encounter unexpected incompatibility cos they might not be from Auckland, so we'll be sympathetic but aloof make out that we're concerned about our housing prices climbing through the roof.
